REPUBLICAN COUNCIL.

The first, third and fourth ward republican electors will hold a caucus on Friday evening, Sept. 10th, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the congressional convention to be held at the court house on the 13th inst. The second and fifth ward electors have already selected their delegates.

BY ORDER WARD COMMITTEE.

Entertainers.

—Humpty Dumpty to-morrow evening at Lappin's music hall.

—W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., rally at post headquarters this evening.

—Remember the moonlight excursion and dance to-night by Capt. Buohholz.

—Darlington and Wankesha are the latest villages to embark in water works luxuries.

—There was a pleasant party at the farm of Sheriff Hanthorn, in the town of Johnston, last night.

—The many friends of the Rev. G. W. Lawrence will regret to learn that he is very sick at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gates, in the town of Deloit.

—The street cars were held last evening until the close of the entertainment at Lappin's hall, in order to accommodate the public residing on the line of the road.

—Peoples' Lodge No. 400, Independent Order of Good Templars, assembled in regular weekly session this evening—lodge room in the Court Street M. E. church building.

—All anxieties regarding the republican county convention being at an end the grass in the court house park has drawn a long breath and once more started to growing.

—Oscar Cobb, of Chicago, the architect for Myers opera house, and Mr. Harry G. Clark, of Chicago, superintendent, are in the city looking over the work in the new theatre.

—Mrs. Henry L. Pitcher is in the city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ziegler, of Main street. She expects to go to Kansas City soon to join her husband, who is engaged in business in the latter city.

—The Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway companies will sell round trip tickets to Madison next week, the occasion of the "Inter-State Agricultural and Mechanical Exposition," for one fare.

—The way that Marshall Hogan has avoided all newspaper men for a day or two past is now explained by the fact that a baby, the coming of whom was kept a secret until last night, is now a member of the marshal's family.

—The young people of the Hauover district school have been enjoying a picnic in the woods a short distance from this city to-day. They were in charge of their teacher, Miss Anna Silverthorn, and when they passed through this afternoon, seemed to have enjoyed themselves hugely.

—The two boys who were arrested for overdriving Sam Hubbell's horse, came up before Judge Patten to-day and were fined five dollars and costs, the costs in each case being about seven dollars. They were committed to jail to remain until the fines were paid, but not to exceed ten days.

—The Milwaukee street pavement continues to gather in victims. This morning as Washington Kelly was riding up the street on a rather shy kind of board the wagon wheel went into a rut and Mr. Kelly was thrown to the ground, part of the load going with him. He escaped with a few bruises, although the ones who saw the accident expected to find him severely injured.

—"Stipped by the Light of the Moon" drew a crowded house last evening at Lappin's hall. While the specialties were "funny," they were not "very funny," and we failed to see merit enough in the piece or actors to call for an extended notice at this time. The audience were made to laugh, and we suppose by that that they were pleased and satisfied.

—A company of about one hundred and forty ladies, as assembled at the home of Dr. S. S. Judd, in the second ward last evening, the occasion being a reception given by Mrs. Judd, and her daughter, Miss Clara Judd. Anderson's orchestra discoursed sweet music, while social diversions made the time pass away very swiftly, and the guests enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

—Washington Court, Sept. 5.—"Purmaster Henry T. Wright, U. S. Navy, arrived in the city on the first instant, from Janesville, Wis., reporting to relieve Pay Inspector James Roy. Paymaster Wright will be joined by his family as soon as he finds suitable quarters." Mr. Wright, as well as his many Janesville friends, will be surprised to know that he has a family.

—The Temperance Month.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union have completed arrangements for a lunch counter and temperance restaurant at the fair and earnestly request the sympathy and support of all temperance people. This enterprise is under the management of the temperance women of the county and the proceeds will be used to advance the interest of temperance in the county. Donations of all kinds of eatables will be very acceptable. The ladies deplore the action of the management in permitting intoxicating drinks to be sold on the grounds and realize that the only thing left for them to do is to make the temperance booth so attractive as to counteract the evil influence in a measure. They are entitled to the practical sympathy of temperance loving people, which they will doubtless receive in unstinted measure.

—A Lost Cow.

In Tuscarawas county, Ohio, was lately advertised in the following style: STRAYED OR BROKEN—A large red cow with yellow specks on her left side, and a pair of white specks on her right ear. She was about seven or eight years old, and belongs to a widow with short horns. Ten dollars will be given to any one who will return her to B. Gayly 17, 1890.

—Choral Union.

All members of the choral union are requested to be at the Guards armory, Friday evening at 7:30. This is the annual meeting for the election of officers.

F. O. HAZLETEN.

TONY DENIER'S FANTASMES TO-MORROW NIGHT.

The ever popular Denier entertainment will create shouts of laughter and much healthy enjoyment at Lappin's hall to-morrow night. Report has it that this company is stronger than it has been for many years, and that Mr. Denier has spared no money or trouble in arranging himself with a corps of artists of superlative ability. Many new features are introduced, including a very laughable musical pantomime illustrating the adventures of "Humpty Dumpty" amongst the Japanese; Hampt's adventures in the Wild West, with the accompaniments of Camp Life on the far west prairies; Indians, cowboys, greasers, etc., etc., and introducing Buffalo Bill, who appears as usual in time to save women and children from the blood-thirsty savages, and brings everything to a happy ending, after personally slaughtering untold numbers of Cheyennes, Arapahoes, Sioux, and other knights of the plains.

The specialties attached to this entertainment are said to be of great merit, and strong enough to form an entire entertainment in themselves. Amongst the novelties we note "The Blondin Donkey," a new and highly amusing episode, which must be seen to be appreciated, which creates roars of laughter. This act was originally performed at Her Majesty's Theatre, London, by Tony Denier himself.

The Seamon Co. and Gertie are protegee artists who are without rivals in their line. Mr. Seamon is the possessor of probably the finest baritone voice on the vaudeville stage, and he has been much sought after by opera managers. Harry Starr, "a big pardner," Harry has been for many years engaged in the various European capitals and his sketch of a duode in a skating rink is provocative of much merriment. Miss Madge Aisher is admitted to be the best exponent of best song and dance in America. The world renowned Ashten Brothers in their champion horizontal bar act; Eldora surmised the demon jangler; Eugene Revillo, master magician; the three jockeys, in a singularly expert border act; and last but by no means least, moon-parable Charley Schilling, the one man brass band. Karel, prince of clowns, will appear as Humpty Dumpty, in which role he has at present acquired the supremacy. It is questionable whether a finer show of its kind will be seen in Janesville this season and we speak a big audience.

JANESVILLE'S BUSINESS LIFE.

The following kind words are clipped from the Milton Telephone: "Considering the general financial depression at the present time, Janesville is exhibiting a remarkable degree of enterprise and business activity. Through the efforts of the Business Men's Association, the street railway has been secured, water works are under way, and the Evansville 'cut off' is being built, and other enterprises are being inaugurated, which will add largely to the future welfare and growth of the city. The fact that all these improvements are being made when general business is at its lowest ebb, proves that Janesville has a bright future and will share generously in the general prosperity which is sure to return within a few years. The spirit of thrift and enterprise now manifested by the citizens of Janesville shows that business men have confidence in the abiding prosperity and growth of the city. With an unequalled agricultural region on every side, with a most excellent water power and facilities for manufacturing equalled by few cities in the west, Janesville is sure to become a much larger and wealthier city than that which we now see eight miles to the southwest. In doing this the Board City will be simply keeping pace with the onward march of prosperity which is yet to come to our state and the great northwest."

New Dry Goods Store.

The many friends of Mr. F. Quinn will be pleased to learn that he has made arrangements to remain in the city and also to engage in business for himself. Mr. Quinn has rented a store in the Meyer's house block on Main street, directly opposite R. M. Bostwick's clothing store, and is now putting in his stock of goods. He will be ready for business Monday, September 18th. His stock is new and bought for cash, and will be sold at cash prices. Mr. Quinn is also well and favorably known both in the city and county that he needs no introduction. For the past twenty-four years he has been identified with the dry goods interests of the Bowe, City, and he enjoys the confidence and esteem of a multitude of friends who will wish him success and who will cheerfully contribute to his prosperity by practical support in the way of patronage. He will have something to say about business in the advertising columns of the Gazette early next week.

Novel and Instructive.

Mrs. Eva C. Griffith, of Whitewater, will give her new illustrated temperance lecture at the Congregational church next Sunday afternoon at half past three o'clock. The lecture is called "Chalk Talk No. 2," and possesses many novel features. Picture stories illustrated and related in the happy manner possessed by Mrs. Griffith make the lecture particularly attractive and entertaining. The following press notice will indicate the popularity of the speaker and the excellence of her production: "The lecture was unique in every respect, being different from anything before given. Mrs. Griffith illustrated by charts which contained chalk pencil drawings, the various steps usually were taken after a stage had once been made, and how difficult it was to get back. The audience acknowledged its attentiveness by looking sad. Some of the little ones fairly cried. The lady is a capital speaker."

A New Greenhouse.

For months past Walter Helms has been making arrangements for supplying his steadily growing trade in plants and cut flowers. The green house that he has been building is now almost finished and already many of the beds are full of bright colored blossoms. Around the sides of the structure, which is thirty eight feet long by eighteen feet wide, are stretched the plant beds, while there is another large one directly in the center. The work is entirely separate and in this will be the steam heating apparatus that is to be put in this fall. Mr. Helms is now finishing the glass roof which is put up on a system different from that generally used. Instead of the plates overlaid used, he has ordered to be put up with a zinc strip to unite them. This makes a much better joint and though it has only been in use a year, it is being introduced in green houses all over the country.

Mr. Helms is now making ready his exhibit for the county fair. He expects to be able to supply demands for any kind of cut flowers upon very short notice this winter and orders can be left at his music store on South Main street, the customer being thus saved much trouble.

MUSICAL.

Cinderella, and The Enchanted Swans to be rendered by the Ladies of The Janesville Choral Union.

A musical evening of considerable note is to be presented on the evening of September 21st and 22d at Lappin's hall. The story of Cinderella is familiar to almost every household in the civilized world, but few comparatively have enjoyed the pleasure of witnessing it arranged annually, with all the scenic and dramatic effects which lend it charms not found in the mere reading itself. The music is indeed delightful, and when given by vocalists such as possessed by Janesville, who have been carefully trained by Mr. L. A. Torrence, gentlemen of eminence in his profession and second to none in the west as a director, it may be safely said that success is assured.

Following Cinderella comes the beautiful cantata of the Enchanted Serenade, work sparkling in musical gems and which would delight any audience from first to last. The ladies have secured a select orchestra from Chicago and Milwaukee and also the assistance of first class vocal soloists. There is not the least doubt that these concerts will be the greatest event musically, given in the city for many years. The ladies of the Janesville Choral Union and Mr. L. A. Torrence deserve the highest commendation for their untiring zeal towards promoting the musical welfare of our fair city and it is to be hoped that the public will extend its substantial recognition on this occasion. Tickets, including reserve seats, only fifty cents. For sale at Prentice & Evenson's drug store, and by the ladies of the Janesville Choral Union.

—Fairbank's Laundry Soap makes your clothes look lovely. Ask your grocer for it.

A chance to win a prize.

Andrews Pearl Daking Powder Co. has created much interest among the ladies, and many have signified their intention of competing for some of the valuable premiums. The conditions of the offer and amounts of the premiums offered are stated in the entry papers which can be obtained at any grocer in Janesville. The winner of a premium not only gets substantial prize, but at the same time establishes a reputation of knowing how to bake. All cakes are to be delivered to Mrs. F. O. Outter, General Agent, at the Grand Hotel on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The cakes will be exhibited at the Madison fair, and prizes awarded in an impartial and unprejudiced manner by a committee of ladies who are not allowed to themselves compete for prizes offered.

WORDS! WORDS! WORDS!!!

Pleasant Criticism on the House of Words.

There is no study more delightful than that of words, and yet it is a weighted study. In words we find law, custom, habit and religion. If the editor of the Gazette will permit it, it is my purpose to write a short article upon misused words.

To speak of a woman as a female or of a man as a male, a thing done often by good speakers and writers, is to confound them with brutes and plants. Brutes and plants are either male or female as well as the human kind. Male and female are adjectives and cannot be used properly as nouns. Both of these words when used should be employed with a noun defining the kind of animal or plant referred to.

Since the new version of the Bible has been published, men who swear, display a woeful ignorance of the meaning of the words they use. Men are now told to "go to ladies," "go to school" for "go to hell." Now ladies never mean hell, nor the place of final punishment nor indeed of any punishment. Hades is a Greek word and means the "unseen"—the kingdom of the dead. School is the corresponding word in Hebrew. If a man swears at all he should use as good language as the nature of the case will permit. If he wants a man to die miserably, to go to the kingdom of the dead, he may use ladies or school. If he means to send him to a place of punishment, and master swear in Greek, he should say, "Go to Gehenna."

If you go into our court house now, this sentence will meet your eye. "No spitting on the floor allowed." Allow is here used in a sense in which it should never be used, that is in the sense of permit. We allow when we admit. Allow should never be used in the sense of assert. There may be some room for argument about this word, but good English requires the limitation I have put upon its use.

Now if the reader wishes to refer to this article, do not say: "Under the caption of Words, Words, Words," but under the heading, etc. This is a fearful blunder, caption means seizure, the act of taking. It comes from capio, I seize, captum, seized, and not from captain or capital
